THE ENGLISH AND EMPIRE DIGEST
CONSOLIDATED TABLE OF CASES.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

It is impossible to over-emphasise the importance of the two volumes which contain the Consolidated Table of Cases to the English and Empire Digest.

For some time the Publishers have been aware that in spite, they are tempted to say because, of the systematic grouping of the cases in this Work it has not always been easy for a reader readily to trace a case under a heading in which he looked to find it. The ordering of so great a number of cases has imposed an absolute necessity to avoid overlapping of subject matter. Titles in this work have been, therefore, strictly confined to cases arising under that particular branch of the law. Thus, for example, it has been impossible to include under the title "Bankruptcy and Insolvency" cases on the winding-up of Companies, although many such cases may be cited in argument on questions of bankruptcy and may therefore be looked for under that heading. It is true that every effort has been made by means of cross-references to link up the titles in an adequate manner, but the difficulty is one inherent in the nature of every Digest of Cases.

Fortunately, the difficulty, though serious, is of a transitory character and with the publication of these volumes it vanishes entirely. In future the location of any one of the hundreds of thousands of cases contained in the English and Empire Digest becomes "as simple as A.B.C."

Publishers' Announcement

It may be remarked that the annotations which follow the paragraphs in the English and Empire Digest will achieve a new prominence and a fresh value by the ease with which the annotating cases can be consulted through the medium of the Consolidated Table.

In the Consolidated Table of Cases the reference to each case gives first the volume number in heavy black type, next the title or titles in which it occurs, and lastly the page reference. The titles are given in a contracted form, a list of which will be found on pp. xiii-xv, post. The advantage of this system lies in the fact that where the same case is cited in more than one title the reader may turn at once to the title in which he is interested and will there find not only the case for which he is looking but the whole line of similar authorities, some or one of which may possibly be even more appropriate for his purpose than the original case.

The Index is in strict alphabetical order, but it is advisable to sound a note of warning to the reader not to assume too readily that a case is not in the Index because it does not appear in the exact place in which he looks for it. It is very possible that the name under which he is looking is not the correct spelling or is not quite full. For example, the case of "JONES & CO. v. BARRON" would appear in its strict order after and not before "JONES v. WELCH."

It should be noticed that the cases appearing under the same name appear in the following order:—

1. Those entitled Ex parte.
2. Those entitled In the Goods of.
3. Those entitled Re.
4. Those in which the plaintiff's name appears without any addition, e.g. Jones v. Bailey.
5. Those in which the plaintiff's name has an addition, e.g. Jones & Co. v. Bailey, Jones Bros. v. Bailey, or Jones, Lloyd & Co. v. Bailey.
6. In alphabetical order come those entitled in a more unusual manner, e.g. Jones' Case, Re Jones' Mortgage, Re Jones' Settled Estates, Re Jones' Trusts, Re Jones' Will, etc.

Publishers' Announcement

Cases in which the plaintiff has a title are indexed under the distinctive part of the title, thus: Duke of Norfolk appears under Norfolk (Duke), and Bishop of London under London (Bishop).

Cases in which the casual ejector was plaintiff (e.g. Doe d. Rigge v. Bell; Doe d. Barker v. Goldsmith) are arranged in alphabetical order of defendants without regard to the name of the plaintiff's lessor.

The dates of the cases are given in brackets, but citations of cases are not given in the Table since they appear in full in the main work.

Cases having a double reference, thus Re Garrud, Ex parte Newitt appear in the Table both under Garrud and also under Newitt.

For ease and speed of reference the first three letters of the first case on each left-hand page appear at the top of the page in heavy black type; similarly the first three letters of the last case on each right-hand page will be found at the top of the right-hand page.

All the cases in the main volumes and in the Fifth Annual Cumulative Supplement, that is, all the cases up to the 1st January, 1930, are included in the Table.

This Consolidated Table of Cases, the technical difficulties in the preparation of which are considerably greater than might be imagined, has been prepared by a highly skilled and experienced staff. In completeness and in sheer size it easily exceeds any Table of Cases which has ever been published. The Publishers are confident that it will achieve the purpose of rendering every case in the English and Empire Digest instantly accessible.
